Publisher's announcement.—What the Chicago News is to Chicago, or the Buffalo News is to Buffalo, so is the New Orleans ITEM to New Orleans. The ITEM guarantees advertisers a larger total circulation by over 10,000 copies of any New Orleans newspaper. The city circulation of the ITEM is guaranteed to be double that of any other New Orleans paper, and larger than any other two New Orleans papers combined. The ITEM reaches the homes and hearts of its readers, and a canvass of the "Garden District" (the exclusive residential section of New Orleans) shows the ITEM to have the largest circulation in the quality section of that city. In addition to its having the exceedingly large excess circulation. Further, the ITEM's rates per line per thousand of circulation are much cheaper than any other New Orleans newspaper, and it is difficult for an advertiser to make a successful campaign in New Orleans without using the ITEM.

In 1907 the ITEM carried more local department store, more local display, and more foreign advertising than any other New Orleans newspaper. Smith & Thompson, advertising representatives, 225 Fifth Ave., New York—Tribune Bldg., Chicago.

Publisher's announcement.—COMFORT has a bona fide monthly mailed circulation of one million and a quarter. You find its columns full of good reading matter, well illustrated, and of a merit ahead of the general mail-order magazines. That's why COMFORT is read and has become the plain people's popular paper. Six million readers watch for its monthly coming. It's the plain, common middle classes, especially the ones living in the country and small towns, who find the city store counters brought right into their homes by the mail-order business. COMFORT has been the leading mail-order paper since it was established, nineteen years ago, and has always made the rural and small town home its special field. "If you put it in COMFORT it pays."

The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the News is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—Of the several mediums offered the advertiser entering the Baltimore field, none has more genuine claims than the Baltimore News. Its circulation is large and growing, and its methods are straightforward and direct. The News is the evening daily of Baltimore. It has a larger circulation in its home city than any other newspaper, barring none. The News never cuts rates, publishes no objectionable advertising, and prints daily the figures of its circulation.

Copies printed: No definite and satisfactory statement has ever been secured from the daily edition of this paper, but it had credit for exceeding 4,000 in 1907.

Sunday: 12,729 in 1907

Publisher's announcement.—The pioneer Sunday newspaper of Bristol county. Largest bona fide circulation of any newspaper south of Boston. Carries most local advertising. Especially valuable for drygoods, real estate, financial, theatrical and medicine advertising. The average Sunday circulation now exceeds 14,500 copies.

New Bedford leads the world in the manufacture of fine cotton goods and rapid growth in population. The TIMES is a modern newspaper that keeps pace with this growth. Its policy of printing "both sides" without personal prejudice and political bias has made it the leader in power and popularity. Its circulation is not duplicated, and advertisers are not forced to pay double for two papers to get the value of one. The TIMES is the only local newspaper officially recognized by unions representing 30,000 high-paid textile operatives. Only local newspaper that is gaining circulation. Only newspaper that offered its circulation accounts to a committee of ten local advertisers. Daily average circulation, 6,237 copies.

Publisher's announcement.—The total circulation of the UNION, which is greater than its contemporaries combined, goes into homes within a trading radius of the city. Thus advertisers receive the benefit of the entire circulation. Unlike other dailies in its field, the UNION is taken by readers who are susceptible to advertising—the younger and the more progressive element in the community. The purchasing power of this following, composed for the most part of mechanics earning good pay, is greater than that of any community in the State of equal population.

Local advertisers use more space in the UNION than in any other paper. During 1907 the UNION published 396,872 more lines of advertising than any other paper in its field.

Advertising rates: One time, 10c. a line; 26 times, 5c.; 78 times, 4c.; 156 times, 3¼c.; classified, 5c. All advertisements appear in both morning and evening editions at the same price.

Publisher's announcement.—Actual average (sworn) for 1907 was 14,682 copies daily. Permission given Association of American Advertisers to examine circulation.

Printing by far the best evening paper, it is not strange that the GAZETTE is gradually gaining in circulation. It is confidently expected that, before the end of the current year, the average will be between 15,000 and 16,000 copies daily.

The GAZETTE is WORCESTER'S "HOME" PAPER, and now has the largest evening circulation of any Worcester newspaper. The GAZETTE prints and sells more papers daily than any other Worcester evening paper sells, or ever did sell, or claim to sell.

It now carries more columns of display advertising in the six week-days than any other Worcester paper. This is because Worcester merchants recognize that the GAZETTE is the paper that brings Worcester people into Worcester stores to BUY goods.

 The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the Journal is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—In 1907 the Minneapolis JOURNAL, daily and Sunday, carried 7,730,184 lines of advertising. This was 1,316,084 more lines than was carried by any other newspaper in Minneapolis or St. Paul. Minneapolis merchants, in 1907, used 4,449,368 in the Daily and Sunday JOURNAL. This is 32% more than appeared in any other Minneapolis paper.

The JOURNAL predominates in the rich, expansive territory of which Minneapolis is the metropolis and the business center. The JOURNAL leads all other papers in the Great Northwest in volume of local, foreign, land, real estate, financial, book, educational and total advertising; and in classified advertising it is far ahead of all other papers in the field, although it does not carry a line of objectionable medical, clairvoyant and other advertising of a similar character.

The JOURNAL is pre-eminently the great "Home" paper in Minneapolis. Consequently it reaches the great army of purchasers in its field, and its circulation is of much greater value to the advertiser.

This is why Minneapolis merchants, who are on the ground and know circulation value in Minneapolis, use The JOURNAL one-third more than they do any other Minneapolis paper.

The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the daily Tribune is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—The Minneapolis TRIBUNE is delivered to and paid for in more than four fifths of the homes in Minneapolis, and in more than nine-tenths of the homes in Hennepin county outside of Minneapolis.

The paid circulation outside of the Twin Cities, but within a radius of one hundred miles of the city limits, is more than double that of its nearest competitor.

The paid circulation of the TRIBUNE in the State of Minnesota alone is greater than the total paid circulation of any of its Twin City competitors in Minnesota, all other States and Canada combined.

Our competitors' advertising rates (per line per thousand of circulation), taking either total circulation or city circulation as a basis, are from twenty to fifty per cent higher than the rates of the TRIBUNE (per line per thousand of circulation).

Four-fifths of the families in Minneapolis read the TRIBUNE. The cost in the other papers to reach the remaining one-fifth is more than the TRIBUNE charges for the four-fifths.

Publisher's announcement.—The Bunceton Weekly EAGLE, the leading newspaper in Cooper county, is published in one of the richest agricultural and fine stock-raising counties in Missouri. Population of county, 23,000. The EAGLE has been under the present management fifteen years, the volume of business increasing each succeeding year. Has quality as well as quantity of circulation—the subscription business being on the strictly cash-in-advance system—no delinquent subscribers. Its farm and stock department has made it the farmer and stockman's local paper of Central Missouri. The large patronage accorded it by leading advertisers of Cooper and adjoining counties is convincing acknowledgment of its value as an advertising medium.

The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the Kansas City Star is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—AWARDED FEBRUARY 15, 1899, BY

PRINTERS' INK, THE LITTLE SCHOOLMASTER IN THE ART OF ADVERTISING, TO "THE KANSAS CITY STAR," THAT PAPER, AFTER FOUR MONTHS' CAREFUL WEIGHING OF EVIDENCE, HAVING BEEN PRONOUNCED THE ONE PUBLISHED WEST OF CHICAGO WHICH GIVES AN ADVERTISER THE BEST SERVICE IN PROPORTION TO THE PRICE CHARGED. IT WAS TRUE THEN, AND IT IS TRUE TO-DAY.

THE STAR accepts all advertising on condition that the paid circulation of its morning, evening and Sunday editions exceeds 135,000 each issue and that the paid-in-advance circulation of its weekly edition exceeds 250,000 each issue.

It is impossible to conduct a successful advertising campaign in Kansas City without the use of THE STAR, morning, evening or Sunday. It carries all the "Want Ads" of Kansas City, and nearly all of Kansas City's merchants use its columns almost exclusively. It sells more papers in Kansas City every morning and again every evening than there are houses in the city. Out of THE STAR'S total circulation of 140,000

IT is just as impossible for advertisers to cover Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma without the use of

The Kansas City Weekly Star

as it is to cover Kansas City without the use of

The Kansas City Star

The Circulation of the STAR for 1907, all waste and free copies deducted, averaged :

The Packer is the acknowledged authority of North America (including all of the United States and Canada) in matters relating to the productions and marketing of all kinds of FRUITS and PRODUCE.

The Packer is devoted to fruits, vegetables, butter and dairy interests, eggs, poultry and produce generally.

The paid subscription list of The Packer carries the names of about all of the people of the entire United States and Canada who are interested in an important way in the commercial production and marketing of all lines of fruits and produce, including the following: commercial orchardists, berry and other fruit growers; commercial growers of potatoes, onions, cabbage and all other kinds of vegetables, truck and melons; primary shippers of eggs, poultry, butter and dairy people; and last but by no means least jobbers, receivers and general distributors located in all parts of the country and handling every one of the above lines.

The Packer is the marketing medium upon which they all rely. They all read it and depend upon it on account of its accuracy. They all understand that under no circumstances will we accept fake advertising or ads from unreliable people. The news printed in The Packer is right up to the minute, and in every way it is the paper of to-day—a living wire and not depending on past reputation.

If you have any doubt as to whether an ad in The Packer would pay you, we suggest that you write any or all of our advertisers for their experience. Most of them have advertised for several years in The Packer and they are still doing it. They are all good business people and they are not going to burn up their money for nothing—it pays them—it will pay you—try it.

We have our own paid correspondents and business representatives located in most of the important cities of the country, including Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Baltimore, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Denver, New Orleans, Memphis. We also have a large force of paid traveling staff correspondents who are kept constantly in the fruit and vegetable producing sections, working for subscriptions and furnishing us with the news that is of vital interest to this important industry.

The Packer's paid subscriptions for 1908 is guaranteed by the publishers to exceed 40,000 copies for every issue of the year. As each copy of the paper will be read by from two to a dozen readers, it is a safe estimate to say that we have an average of at least 150,000 weekly steady readers—and all of them vitally interested in this great field of industry. There are no secrets about The Packer's circulation. The press-room, where the paper is published, is an open house every Saturday in the year for the entertainment and enlightenment of interested advertisers. They all have the privilege of watching the run and of securing any other evidence which they may require of the actual circulation of this paper.

Publisher's announcement.—Owing to controversy with the Post Office Department this publication suspended after April, 1907, issue. Since then, the SECOND-CLASS mailing privileges that it had enjoyed for 17 years unchallenged have been restored, and it resumed regular publication commencing with January, 1908, issue.

In the rebuilding process rapid advances in circulation are being made from month to month, and no circulation statement furnished at time this directory went to press would be accurate or do the publishers' justice. At any rate, the publishers charge only for circulation that can be proven by post office receipts. The SWORN post office direct-by-mail circulation is published in each issue.

Publisher's announcement.—The TELEGRAPH is the only daily paper in Nashua, a city of 25,000 population, annual pay rolls of over seven millions, bank deposits of four millions, a most prosperous manufacturing, shipping and trading center, surrounded by many small towns. The TELEGRAPH has the full Associated Press service, but pays particular attention to its local news. Its own carriers deliver the paper into practically every English-speaking home in the city. It is, therefore, the only medium for the progressive advertiser to successfully present the merits of his goods to the people of Nashua. The TELEGRAPH caters for the best class of advertising and readers, all liquor and objectionable advertising being excluded. Eight, ten or twelve pages are published daily.

Publisher's announcement.—The EVENING JOURNAL, a strong Republican paper, conceded the leading paper in Hudson County, the strongest Democratic county in New Jersey. Inspection of its columns shows the reason. More completely than any other paper it represents the greatest number of local interests in its district.

A two (2) cent paper, with a home, not a street circulation among the people who are able to purchase goods advertised.

Its circulation is continually and steadily increasing. See adv. below.

The Evening Journal

OF JERSEY CITY, N. J.

The leading and only 2-cent local paper in a field contested by 1-cent local and New York papers.

A HOME, NOT A STREET CIRCULATION

One edition daily, therefore no duplication of circulation.

Publisher's announcement.—The publishers of the JOURNAL believe the true circulation of a newspaper is the number actually sold and not the number printed. The statement above represents actual circulation, and means much more to advertisers than if the figures were padded by spoiled and unsold copies. When an advertiser selects the ALBANY EVENING JOURNAL as a medium for reaching the buying classes he gets a newspaper that goes into the home as well as the store, office, shop and factory. In Publisher's announcement.—Only Binghamton paper showing net gain in circulation during 1907—no "mushroom" business here—just sane progress. Of the average for 1907 (10,494) 87 per cent was net paid.

A clean, paid, home circulation, constantly growing and constantly weeded. Advertisers appreciate this policy, because it pays them in results. Net gain in advertising, 1907, 30 per cent.

Binghamton's only morning paper. Only Republican daily in a strong Republican county. Controls R. F. D. circulation absolutely. Delivered into the home and stays there all day. No street sales.

To get results in this territory advertise in the REPUBLICAN, the paper that the women read, and read while it is fresh. After reading it they do their shopping. After reading the evening paper, most people go to sleep.

Rates less than 2c. per inch per thousand. Mgr. Foreign Adv. Dept., Vreeland-Benjamin, New York and Chicago.

No definite and satisfactory statement has ever been secured from the Sunday edition, but it had credit for exceeding 20,000 in 1901 and more than 17,500 in 1902, and every year since, up to and including 1907.

The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the Evening News is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—Advertisers will be interested in the fact that an advertising campaign in Buffalo can reach approximately 85 per cent of the population of Buffalo in one medium at a minimum cost, said minimum cost being the very attractive rate offered by the Buffalo EVENING NEWS, the circulation of which is more than the combined circulation of all other Buffalo evening newspapers, and more than the combined circulation of any three Buffalo newspapers, morning or evening. Its circulation represents both quantity and quality, and the News is the only Buffalo newspaper that will prove its circulation by permitting the examination of its circulation books. The last investigation made in the city of Buffalo by the Association of American Advertisers showed that the News was the only Buffalo newspaper that would permit an examination of their circulation records.

The great excess of advertising carried by the Buffalo EVENING NEWS over other papers in Buffalo is so great as to scarcely permit comparison. During 1907 the News published 16,732 columns of advertising, which was more than any two Buffalo newspapers combined, in spite of the fact that the News will not carry objectionable advertising and other Buffalo newspapers do. The News carried one-third of the total volume of advertising printed in the six daily papers of Buffalo, and the four leading department stores of Buffalo advertising in the News alone more than the other six papers in Buffalo combined. The net paid circulation of the News for the year 1907 averaged 94,943 copies daily. Smith & Thompson, advertising representatives, 225 Fifth Ave., New York—Tribune Building, Chicago.

3,218 in 1905
3,994 in 1906
4,460 in 1907

The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the Argus is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—As the only daily newspaper published in Mount Vernon, and serving a rich buying class in a population that is nearly 40,000 strong, the Daily Argus is preferred by the big department stores of New York as a powerful advertising medium in Westchester county. The average daily circulation is now over 4,500 per day, maintaining the 20 per cent gain which was shown over 1906. The Argus reaches the towns of Pelham, Bronxville and Tuckahoe, and Mount Vernon merchants attest their confidence in its power by using its columns to the exclusion of other forms of media. The Argus also enjoys the acknowledged distinction of carrying more want advertising than had by any newspaper published in a city of 100,000. Enterprising and constantly growing in circulation.

Publisher's announcement.—The ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL has for 45 years been, both at home and abroad, the acknowledged authority on military and naval matters in the United States. The professional information and social news it publishes make it indispensable to Army and Navy officers and their families and friends.

It publishes several times as many military "want" ads, answers to correspondents and "open letters" from military men as do all other United States military publications combined; this is a practical test of how thoroughly it controls this field.

Through it advertisers reach the military and naval services more thoroughly and effectively than through all other "Service" publications combined—an expenditure-saving factor.

It is the only "Service" weekly that issues an authenticated statement of its circulation. It has more than double the circulation of its nearest competitor.

WHEN REPLYING MENTION NO

New York, Dec. 11th., 1897.

EDITOR PRINTERS' INK,
 New York.

Dear Sir:

"Among the advertisers who have appeared in past issues, S. F. Myers Co., jewelry manufacturers, deserve a prominent place. For fifteen years this company has advertised continuously in PRINTERS' INK. One single order received more than paid for all past advertising, and a balance remains that will meet the charges for several years more."

You printed the above in last week's issue of PRINTERS' INK, and however strange the assertion may seem, you are writing the truth.

Some sixteen years ago I was induced to place a small display ad in your publication, and shortly afterwards a gentleman came into our store with a copy of PRINTERS' INK in his hand, and—well, we closed a deal and sold him, in all, goods to the value of $22,000.00.

He said the ad in PRINTERS' INK had induced him to call upon us, and his name is M. H. De Young, of San Francisco, Cal.

Since then our little ad has appeared in every issue of PRINTERS' INK, and it will stay there so long as I am the one to "say so."

Do not imagine that this is the only good result we have received from this source, as scarcely ever does a week pass that you are not mentioned in some communication that reaches us.

Please do not print my picture as having been cured, or "before and after," but accept this as a little tribute to your genuine excellence in producing good results for a class of business that would seem to be foreign to your line.

Yours respectfully,

BIRKET CLARKE,

In charge of advertising with S. F. Myers Co. for 32 years.

TRADE JOURNAL ADVERTISING

Advertising is only second in importance to the honest manufacture of your goods. Goods must be sold after they are manufactured, and advertising is acknowledged as the most potent factor in doing this.

Write us your wants in the TRADE JOURNAL line, which is our specialty. Advertising is a necessary investment to get orders; the only question is how to do it wisely, economically and systematically.

☞ The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded Printers' Ink is guaranteed by the publishers of Rowell's American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—The free list of PRINTERS' INK was discontinued in the fall of 1906. More paid subscribers are now upon the list than at any time in the history of the paper. There is abundant evidence on file at the publication office that these subscribers read and are influenced by the advertising in this paper.

PRINTERS' INK offers publishers an unequalled opportunity to reach an audience composed of a large majority of the national advertisers whom they would like to have represented in their columns. The largest metropolitan dailies, the most successful magazines, the leading farm papers are using space regularly. Advertising in the first fifteen issues of 1908 was over 19 per cent. ahead of the amount in the corresponding fifteen issues of 1907.

Ask for rates of display and classified advertising, and a plan of campaign that we have every assurance would be successful in your case.
